

Graduate Outcomes survey results

A selection of national level accredited official statistics from the survey of graduates from the class of 2022/23

- 917,610 graduates surveyed between 1 December 2023 and 30 November 2023
- 358,045 responses received - thank you!
- 88% of graduates were in some form of work or further study
- 59% were in full-time employment, 5% were in full-time further study and 6% were unemployed
- UK graduates who studied medicine and dentistry had the highest median salary at £37,924
- Median salary of full-time first degree courses in UK full-time paid employment was £28,500 - up from £27,500 from the class of 21/22
- 85% of UK graduates agreed that their current activity is meaningful
- 77% of UK graduates felt their current activity fitted with their future plans
- 69% of UK graduates agreed they were using what they learnt while studying

HESA 2025 CC-BY 4.0

Graduate Outcomes survey logo